Klis Fortress

The first is a tour of the Klis and Klis fortress, built on a great strategic position where military and commercial control the whole territory of ancient Salona and Split. The importance of this position is reflected in the fact that it is considered the key to Dalmatia and the medieval Croatian Kingdom. The first inhabitants of the area were Dalmatians, one of the Illyrian tribes. They occupied the area from the river Krka to the Neretva River, with special emphasis on the area along the river Jadro. The significance and importance of Klis is evident in the 15th century. When he represented the intersection of three empires - the Venetian Republic, the Habsburg Empire, and the Ottoman Empire. Klis was the homeland of fugitives who were led by Petar Kru defended the fortress for more than twenty years of the siege of the Ottoman army. However, the Klis failed to defend. There was no help Habsburgs and 1537. Fell under Turkish rule. For the next 111 g. Klis was under Ottoman rule. 2 hours - Admission Ticket Not Included
